

OFFER OF A RED DEER HUNT IN THE RUTTING SEASON

(HUNGARY)

Place:

1. Hunting grounds located in the counties of Baranya, Somogy and Zala on the Hungarian-Croatian border, in the vicinity of Sellye, Marcali and Zalakaros. The grounds are mixed (from 30 to 70% of the forest) with a number of wetlands (mostly the floodplain of the Drava River). In all cases, these are well-gamed grounds with a large population of red deer. The trophy quality of most stags ranges from 8 to 10 kg, but several red deer with a trophy weight exceeding 10 - 11 are caught here every year, exceptionally also 12 kg (220 CIC +). The antlers of the deer living here are characterized by numerous branches, thick and long trunks and strong burrs.
 2. Hunting grounds on the Hungarian-Ukrainian border in the vicinity of the municipalities of Mándok, Aranyosapáti, Lónya, Vámosatya and Beregdaróc. The grounds are mixed (approximately 50% of the forest with a dominant representation of oak). In all cases, these are very well-gamed grounds with a large population of Carpathian-type deer (the trophy quality of most stags is in the range of 7 to 9 kg, but even here deer with a trophy exceeding 10 kg are caught every year). The antlers of deer living here are characterized by a beautiful dark color, they are less branched and especially lighter than the antlers of deer living in the south of Hungary (the same antlers in volume are about 20% lighter). On the other hand, the body weight of adult deer often exceeds 200 kg (after disemboweling).
- The choice of specific grounds will be agreed according to the requirements of the hunting guest.
